> genlab.cc is a client-side React application with no server-rendered HTML and no content API. This corpus was produced by rendering every route in a headless browser, clicking through tabs and accordions that gate content, sampling scroll-driven sections, and parsing the content arrays compiled into the JavaScript bundle. Site-wide navigation and footer text was de-duplicated into a single entry rather than repeated on every page.

Harikrishnan N.

date: June 12, 2026

rating: 5

text: Awesome experience! The course structure is very clear and the mentors are extremely helpful. I learned MERN stack in 6 months and landed my first job!

Johnathan S.

date: May 28, 2026

rating: 5

text: The projects are very practical. Building real-world web apps helped me understand core concepts much better than just watching tutorials. Highly recommended!

Sneha M.

date: April 15, 2026

rating: 5

text: Excellent mentor support. Whenever I got stuck, the mentors resolved my doubts quickly. The placement preparation was also very useful.

Rahul K.

date: March 10, 2026

rating: 5

text: The curriculum is updated according to what the industry wants. I liked the focus on data structures and backend optimization.

What services does GenLab offer?

answer: GenLab offers three core verticals: Brand Studio for branding, content, and design, AI Forge for AI solutions and automation, and Launchpad for Gen Z upskilling, hackathons, and startup incubation.

Do you work with clients outside Tamil Nadu or India?

answer: Yes. GenLab works with clients across India and globally through remote collaboration, online reviews, and virtual workshops.

Will you also help with development?

answer: Yes. Beyond strategy and design, GenLab supports end-to-end execution, including AI implementation, software development, and campaign rollout where required.

What kind of support does GenLab Launchpad give to startups?

answer: Launchpad supports startups with mentorship, idea validation, branding help, MVP building support, pitch preparation, and connections to potential partners, early talent, and networks.

Can students and working professionals both join GenLab programs?

answer: Yes. GenLab programs are designed for students, recent graduates, and working professionals who want to upskill, switch careers, or start their own ventures.
